MARITIMES

SPRING 2011

On The Horizon...

The crescendo of events is dizzying this spring at the New London Maritime Society, especially as the July 1 kick-off of Sentinels on the Sound, our Celebration of New London's Lighthouse Heritage, approaches. A Custom House initiative, funded by the Connecticut Humanities Council, the weekend has grown into a city-wide program of lighthouse tours, talks & exhibitions. And, for the first time ever, all three lighthouses in New London Harbor will be open to the public at the same time. The lesson of the past year is, in fact, that we're all stronger when we pull together. This issue of our newsletter is devoted to upcoming special events and new partnerships. It promises to be a honkin' great summer on the New London waterfront. Hope to see you there!

upcoming events

JUNE

- 16 Third Thursday - 6:30 pm, Richard Radune author of Sound Rising. $8, FREE for members.

Lighthouse Kids, a program with the NL Public Schools, ended its 1st year; above: the Sea Shanty Chorus. Lighthouse Kids is funded by Dominion Nuclear, & the Community Foundation of Southeastern Connecticut.

A 2011 Frank Loomis Palmer Fund Grant allowed John Marshall to replaster the 2nd-floor US Customs Office. We've also almost finished the courtyard handicap-access ramp, thanks to CDBG & the City of New London.

SENTINELS ON THE SOUND

LIGHTHOUSE WEEKEND, July 1 thru 3, 2011

More lighthouses can be seen from the lantern of New London Harbor Light than from any other spot on earth.

Last fall, New London Maritime Society took on stewardship of the Light. Built 251 years ago, it is the first built on Long Island Sound, the oldest lighthouse in Connecticut, the 4th oldest in North America and still an active aid to navigation. The current tower was built in 1801.

This summer, to celebrate New London's lighthouse heritage, we are hosting a Lighthouse Weekend of exhibitions, tours and events.

Sentinels on the Sound launches New London's Waterfront Summer, with 2011 SailFest up next, July 8 thru 10.

Our lighthouse activities are made possible by a generous grant from the Connecticut Humanities Council. One of the largest humanities councils in the nation, the Connecticut Humanities Council (CHC) nurtures thoughtful exploration of history and literature along with the cultural benefits of both. CHC's reading programs benefit Connecticut citizens of all ages by opening up the world of books to children, encouraging reading as a family activity and engaging adults in thought provoking book discussions. CHC's new $1.7 million Heritage Revitalization Initiative seeks to stabilize Connecticut's heritage organizations and position them for success while bringing the state's past directly to the public through an online encyclopedia of Connecticut history, the infusion of Connecticut history topics in the social studies curriculum and the creation of new media materials on our past. This year, CHC will provide more than $3 million in cultural programming and enrich the lives of residents and visitors statewide. Thank you, CHC!
